Excerpt from The Philosophy of the Active and Moral Powers of Man, Vol. 1: To Which Is Prefixed, Part Second of the Outlines of Moral Philosophy, With Many New and Important Additions It may be also noticed, that of the Second Part of the Outlines of Moral Philosophy, the first and second chapters now correspond to the first and second volumes of the Philosophy of the Active and Moral Powers. The works are thus brought into a clear and complete correlation the two chapters of the one severally referring to the two volumes of the other. New matter is, as previously, marked by its enclosure within square brackets: this distinction may, however, have sometimes been neglected. Besides what is expressly discriminated as by the Editor, foot-notes not designated by numerals are his, also, are all more articulate references, and all short and merely expository interpolations, whether in text or title. Changes only of arrangement are not discriminated neither are the new arguments of the excursive Notes, nor simple alterations of correction or supplement - To this work, as to the others.
